

During the 50th Jubilee Mass, The Most Reverend Fernando Millán Romeral, O. Carm., the Carmelite Prior General from Rome stated, “that as a community we are focused on Catholic education and we will continue to support high school education by the development of young men academically and spiritually with a sense of social justice.” Below are four young men who represent the ideals of the Crespi Man. Please continue to help men like yourself or your son to succeed.

“The greatest part about attending Crespi Carmelite High School is the family atmosphere. Knowing about every student in my class and every teacher really creates an awesome environment. I know everyone here will support me and has my back. They know I have theirs. The school has a strong tradition of academic and athletic excellence, which is why I love being here.” - Mike Mitchell '10

“My decision to go to Crespi Carmelite High School was the greatest choice I have made in my life. I have had the opportunity to excel in academics and sports. I have been faced with many challenges, but the support of the teachers and coaches here have helped me overcome each of them. Every day when I walk on this campus, I realize how lucky I am to be here. Crespi has made me a better person by teaching me to be a man of good character and preparing me for college.” - Kevin Williams II '10

“I like the relationship between students and teachers. The classes are not large, and my friends and I receive more one-on-one time. I have learned a lot about many cultures by being friends with the diverse students in my class. I am learning to be prepared for college and beyond.” – Michael Tsay '11

“Crespi Carmelite High School is an excellent institution on so many levels. It doesn't matter whether you are into academics, or you are in to media production, music, athletics or spiritual development, Crespi really makes you feel part of the brotherhood. Everyone supports each other to succeed. The entire faculty is here to help me and they really understand my needs.” – Trevor Chandler '12

Build your Family Legacy at Crespi Carmelite High School today!

As you are aware, the ability to educate the Crespi Man includes such costs as faculty, staff and financial aid. This year's financial aid requirement totals $750,000 to 22% of our student population. Without your intervention, they would not be at Crespi. Because of the economy, their needs continue to rise. Reverend Tom Schrader, O. Carm., President says, “The Carmelites are unified in their prayers and request for your support, now more than ever in these difficult times. Catholic education is not where our community should make cut-backs. We are asking for a partnership with our lay community as the Carmelites move Crespi Carmelite High School forward for the next 50 years.”

The actual budget cost to educate a student is $16,600 and current tuition and fees are $13,400 resulting in a funding gap of $3,200 per student or $1,840,000. Our mission is simple. Educate young men with Catholic and holistic values. Won't you help continue this Legacy? Build your own Legacy today by donating a minimum gift in the reply envelope enclosed with this appeal or donate online at www.crespi.org. We would appreciate at least a minimum gift of $25.00 during this special jubilee year!

This year, non budgeted items that we also hope the community can help us with include:

- Security cameras $ 36,000
- Facility Safety & Security lighting $ 72,000
- New Science “WET” Lab $223,000
- SMART Boards $ 26,000

Catholic education is one of the last great tax deductible gifts you can make. Only with your help in these difficult times will the Carmelites have the partnership that is needed to support Celts into the future.
